Challenges We Address

Since the advent of ediscovery, gaining early access to case data has increasingly become a challenge, making it more difficult to properly identify opportunities and effectively develop a proactive strategy for winning. The expense of preservation, collection, and review have shifted efforts toward data assessment and management rather than keeping the focus on case strategy. Furthermore, the tools available for early case assessment have been expensive, difficult to use, and disproportionately oriented toward project management rather than litigation strategy.

Benefits We Provide

Lighthouse ECA integrates into our existing workflow, allowing you to perform preliminary, case-specific culling before incurring the cost of review. This enables you to align costs to your case strategy and avoid unnecessary spend. Once ECA is complete, data and work product move seamlessly into review, creating a smooth, end-to-end ediscovery process that can be fully supported at every stage by Lighthouse's team of experts.

Depending in your needs, we offer two solution options.

SOLUTIONS WE OFFER

Lighthouse ECA – Lighthouse ECA enhances Relativity by providing an easy-to-use interface for searching, analyzing, and tagging case data. It leverages the power of Relativity and Brainspace to slice, dice, and visualize data so that you can quickly identify trends, locate information of interest, and drill into specific details. It provides a quick, intuitive, and high-level view of your documents, helping to inform your litigation strategy while freeing you to focus on the merits of the case during these critical early stages.

Lighthouse ECA with Focus Discovery – Pairing Lighthouse ECA with our Focus Discovery services adds the industry-leading expertise of Lighthouse’s team of linguists, lawyers, and technologists to the ECA offering above. Lighthouse’s team of experts are equipped to find key data faster using the most advanced analytics tools available. With Focus Discovery, clients can avoid the lift and ramp-up time required to learn how to use the tools, as our experts have mastered the technology so that you can stay focused on case strategy.

Summary

Lighthouse’s ECA offerings provide industry-leading technology with the option of best-in-class expertise to support so that you can focus on developing an effective case strategy while keeping costs lower.
