Challenges We Address

In today's world of ever-growing and changing data populations and types, corporate legal teams are finding it challenging to stay up to date on the latest and greatest ediscovery technology, maintain consistent processes, develop quality workflows, manage unforeseen costs, as well as many other challenges. There are high overhead costs and steep learning curves when it comes to procuring and maintaining a technology infrastructure.

Corporations have to maintain a consistent approach to discovery across outside counsel, which can be difficult and lead to errors, risks, and additional costs if not done right. There is also a need to implement automation and manual quality checks throughout the process to ensure accuracy and on-time deliveries. Modern-day corporations are facing data security risks, as there is greater scrutiny around requirements when it comes to storing and managing data. Corporate teams have been known to become overburdened when it comes to large, quick-turn matters and may need to leverage additional resources quickly for overflow support or expert advice. There is often a need for experts that can bridge the gap between internal groups and systems, cross-functional processes, and finding the balance between insourcing and outsourcing work. And, on top of it all, there is a general lack of transparency around cost within the space which makes it very difficult for corporations to accurately budget and gauge spend per matter.

Benefits We Provide

Lighthouse provides your team with a holistic approach to technology and services to meet your needs as well as access to metrics and experts when you want, for one predictable price. We work with you to create customized playbook that outlines specific processes for the ediscovery workflow so that you understand how to efficiently and effectively navigate each stage of ediscovery. This playbook is accompanied by in-person educational sessions, ongoing technical support, and technical training resources to make sure you and your team are comfortable with each of your roles in the workflow.

"There were significant cost savings from the managed services approach. And, perhaps more importantly, the quality of the work from Lighthouse was just fantastic. At that point, we realized that it was a no brainer for us to go to a fully outsourced managed services agreement with Lighthouse."
